The "Shuho" compiled by the Information Bureau and published July, the 18th year of Smowa (1967). As it appeared in Shuho No. 40.

The dovernment Statement On The Despatch of Troops.

(July 11th)

The Japanese Arry in China, in quiet observation of unti-Jage acts repeated by the Chinese seeple, was forced to collide with th Chinese 29th Army which had hither to been sharing with our Army the duty of meintaining the peace of North China, having been provoked by illegal shots fired from it in the vicinity of Lukowki on July 7th at midnight. And this brought about a very strained situation in the districts of Peiping and Tientsin with the result that our residents there were driven to the brink of peril. were, however, not in despair of settling the incident peacefully and made efforts to settle it locally based on following the grin ciple of not allowing the incident to spread. The 29th Army, though it had once agreed to our proposal for peaceful settlement of the matter, had the effront to attack our force abruptly on the night of July loth resulting in death and injury to quite a number of our soldiers again. Moreover China furthered warlike preparati against us by incessantly increasing the number of troops at the front, having the force at Siwang march south, and ordering the Central Army to the front. At the same time she showed no sincer! ty in negotiating with us emicably and finally went so far as to repudinte all negotiations made between us in Pelping. Judging from the facts mentioned above, there is no room for doubt that this incident is nothing but an instance of anti-Japanese movements with arms purposely planned by China.

I think it is not necessary for me to say here that the maintenance of the peace in North China is of course urgently necessary for Japan and Manchukuo; it is requisite for the maintenance of peace in East Asia that China make apologies to Japan for her anti-Japanese acts, not to speak of illegal acts that she has committee, and give oppropriate assurance against similar acts in the future.

a important resolution deciding to take requisite measures with respect to dispetching troops to worth China.

The maintenance of peace in most asia is, however, rejurded as ever by our Empire, and so the Government does not despair in peace-fully negotiating with China to prevent the emphasion of this inciden and hopes for smooth settlement of the incident which can be made effective by China's prompt reflection. And again as for the preservation of the interests of the rowers' adequate consideration shall be given just as before.
